Good Business Seen For 1953, Possible Downturn In 1954

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and a team of government and private economists predict good business in the new year, a possible downturn in 1954.

Anti-Filibuster Strategy Planned

Four Senators May Tie Up New Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strategy meeting called today by four senators could result in tying the new Senate into knots within minutes after it convenes Saturday.

Sen. Lehman (D-Ala.), scheduled the meeting in his office to discuss the feasibility of attacking the filibuster, the unlimited debate Southern Democrats employ in the Senate to talk to death civil rights bills they traditionally oppose.

Meeting with Lehman will be Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), Douglas (D-Ill.) and Ives (R-N.Y.). All are avowed foes of present Senate rules which they contend permit a small minority to filibuster and kill civil rights bills they say a majority of senators would vote for.

Humphrey conceded that chances to upset the existing rules are somewhat small.

He said one possible means of attack to be discussed would embrace a motion at the start of the Jan. 3 session to adopt a new set of Senate rules. The Senate long has considered itself a continuing body and lets its rules stand from one session to another with only occasional changes.

Humphrey said the attack, if it comes, would take this tack:

1. A motion to adopt new rules. 2. An appeal from the presiding officer's expected ruling that the motion is out of order.

Humphrey told a reporter he has no doubt that the original step itself would provoke a filibuster which could last for weeks or months, with Southerners using their privilege of unlimited speech-making to delay a vote until the motion is withdrawn.

Under the existing rules it takes a vote of at least 64 of the 96 Senate members to limit debate. The Lehman-Humphrey group's objective is to amend this to permit 49 or more senators to order a debate limitation.

714 Americans Die In Holiday Accidents

By The Associated Press
Accidents killed 714 Americans during the four-day Christmas week end. Included in that number were 533 who died in traffic mishaps.

Neither figures represented a record, nor did the traffic fatalities for the 102-hour period between 6 p. m. Wednesday and mid-night Sunday (local time) come up to the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 590.

Bloody as the slaughter on the streets and highways was, it did not equal the 555 killed during similar Christmas week end in 1936. The all-time record for all accidental deaths during a four-day Christmas holiday period, 789, was set last year.

Mrs. Eisenhower III In Bed With Cold

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in bed with a cold during the week end, but her doctor says she should be up and around today.

"She is in good shape and coming along fine," Dr. Howard Snyder said yesterday.

Mrs. Eisenhower caught cold Christmas night and went to bed Saturday at the Eisenhower Columbia University residence on Morningside Heights.

CONSTABLE GROUP MEETS

West's 1st Atom Spy Freed From British Prison

Dr. May Served 6 Years; Out For Good Behavior

WAKEFIELD, England (AP)—The Western world's first convicted atom spy, Dr. Alan Nunn May, was released today from prison for "good behavior" although he never has publicly repented handing atomic secrets to Russia and still is an avowed Communist.

The slight 41-year-old physicist was said by an official spokesman to have been freed from Britain's grim Wormwood Scrubs Prison "during the night" after serving six years and eight months of a 10-year sentence.

May was convicted and sentenced after the famed Canadian spy plot was cracked in 1946. He told the court he slipped atomic secrets to Russian agents for the "safety of mankind." He would say nothing more about the case.

Can Go Where He Pleases

Under British law, authorities had to give him time off for good behavior. He is free to go and come as he pleases in this country so long as he stays out of trouble.

May joined Britain's super-secret atomic program in April, 1942. The following year he went to Canada to work in the U. S.—Canadian-British atomic program. During four trips to Chicago in 1944 he learned some of the steps that led to the construction of America's first atom bomb.

Linked to Red Plot

The physicist had returned to London in 1945 when a young Soviet embassy clerk in Ottawa, Igor Gouzenko, handed Western authorities an armload of secret Soviet documents that linked May with an amazing Russian plot to steal vital atomic secrets.

The Soviet records showed May got at least $700 and two bottles of whisky for his services. But it was clear money was not his object—he said he believed Russia should share the West's atomic developments.

Britain still holds in prison another famed atom spy, German-born Klaus Fuchs, who was sentenced to 14 years on charges of giving nuclear secrets to Russia in 1950.

A U. S. Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy said in 1951 that May and Fuchs and the American, David Greenglass—all convicted spies—"advanced the Soviet atomic energy program by 18 months as a minimum."

Man Dies As Result Of Accident Injuries

John L. Beatey, 64, of Canton died at 4 p.m. Sunday in East Liverpool City Hospital of injuries received when his car collided with an auto operated by Robert Leathersberry, 82, of Wellsview Dec. 20 on Route 39, two miles north of Wellsview.

He had sustained internal injuries, a fracture of the right wrist and possible fractured ribs.

Injured in the mishap and still in serious condition at East Liverpool City is Leathersberry and his wife, Cora, 82.

Donora Smog Report May Aid London

LONDON (AP)—British legislators trying to do something about the deaths resulting from London's smoke-laden fogs may make use of a U. S. government report on the Donora, Pa., smog of 1948, which killed 19 persons.

A spokesman for the U. S. Embassy said yesterday it will furnish the report to Laborite Parliament Member Norman Dodds, who requested it. He is preparing an all-out campaign against London's smogs.

Here, as in Donora, smothering fogs containing acid fumes from industrial plants have been blamed for deaths, especially among asthmatic and cardiac sufferers.

Dodds said more than 2,000 persons died from the record London smog Dec. 6 to 9.

3 Gunmen Hold Up Steubenville Market

STUEBENVILLE, O. (AP)—Police searched today for three gunmen who held up the assistant manager and a clerk of the A & P supermarket here.

The three got $180 in cash and $89 in checks from assistant manager Louis Brandau and one of his employees, Miss Minnie Merrick 28, Saturday night.

They then tied the pair and left Brandau managed to break his bonds early Sunday morning.

Legislators Urge Unions To Toss Out Communists

Eisenhower Asks Advice On Continuing Controls

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower has instructed a group of advisers to come up with recommendations on whether the new administration should ask Congress to extend wage-price control authority beyond April 30.

An informed source, who asked not to be named, said today the group has been studying "the whole complex matter" for some time but has not reached even a preliminary decision.

The advisers were described as eminently qualified, but the source declined to say who they are.

In Clarksburg, W. Va., Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) disclosed a group of Republican leaders in the Senate will meet with Eisenhower Tuesday in New York.

The Ohioan said the group probably will discuss price-wage controls and last week's announcement by Premier Stalin he is favorably disposed to confer with Eisenhower.

Taft said he didn't know all the probable topics of discussion, adding, "The general will bring up the subjects we will discuss."

In another field, Eisenhower last night named a 14-man agricultural advisory committee to help draft the incoming administration's farm program.

Conferred With Benson

The committee was appointed by Eisenhower after conferences with Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture-designate, and it will work with Benson. The group of farm specialists is headed by W. I. Myers, dean of the Agriculture College at Cornell University.

The committee is an interim unit which will serve between now and inauguration day, Jan. 20, and perhaps for a while thereafter. It probably will be succeeded by a bipartisan federal agricultural commission, which Eisenhower said during the campaign he would create if elected.

The President-elect was returning to his Commodore Hotel office today for the first time since last Wednesday, when the headquarters was closed for the Christmas weekend.

Only two visitors were on the calling list today—Boston banker Robert Cutler, who served as an adviser during the campaign, and Paul G. Hoffman, former chief of the Marshall Plan foreign aid program in the Truman administration and now head of the Ford Foundation. Hoffman also was an adviser to Eisenhower during the campaign.

Doesn't Seek Job

Hoffman said after a recent conference with Eisenhower that for personal reasons he was not in the market for a job in the new administration. Cutler called on the general last week and said he didn't talk about that yet when asked by newsmen whether he would take a government job.

The problem of what to do about wage-price controls is regarded by Eisenhower associates as one of the knottiest confronting him.

The present wage-price control law expires April 30. Eisenhower's position during the campaign was that he wanted to see wage-price curbs junked as soon as feasible. He will have to decide in the early days of his administration whether this spring will be a feasible time.

He also will seek advice on the wage-price control issue from Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate Republican leaders. The general, who already has conferred with House GOP leaders, may meet with the Senate group this week. The Stalin peace overtures also are likely to be discussed with the senators.

Five Mishaps Occur In City Over Weekend

One person was slightly injured in one of the five traffic mishaps investigated by police over the weekend.

Beulah D. Ritz of Elm Grove, W. Va., told police a car driven by John Bennett of East Liverpool struck the rear of her car at 2:10 p.m. Saturday as she was stopped in a line of traffic on S. Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Henrietta Lacey, 70, of Wheeling, W. Va., a passenger in the Ritz auto, sustained abrasions of the right knee and was treated at the Salem City Hospital.

Cars driven by William W. Geis of Columbiana and Charles B. Hoopes of RD 2, Salem collided at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of E. Third St. and N. Lundy Ave. Geis' auto was shoved by the impact into the city light pole, breaking the globe.

George H. Izenhour of 688 Fair St. reported to police that his car struck and slightly damaged a parked car, license K-477-F, at 10:30 p.m. Saturday as he was backing out of a driveway at 489 Euclid St.

L. W. Johnson of 1505 N. Ellsworth Ave. told police that a coal truck struck and damaged his car at 1:45 p.m. Saturday while it was parked at 123 Jennings Ave. The truck, he said, did not stop after the mishap.

In another hit-skip accident, William Crookston of 376 W. Wilson St. reported that an unidentified vehicle struck and damaged the left rear door of his car between 10 a.m. and noon Sunday while it was parked at 363 S. Ellsworth Ave.

Youth Hits Lisbon Cruiser After Chase

LISBON—A 19-year-old Rogers youth was fined a total of $135 and costs on two charges after he crashed into the village cruiser during an 100-mile-an-hour chase early Sunday morning on the Lisbon-Elkton Rd.

Joseph A. Bukoffsky of RD 1, Rogers, was fined $100 and costs for reckless driving and $35 and costs for resisting arrest after pleading guilty at a hearing before Mayor Wilbur Warren.

The cruiser was hit when Bukoffsky slowed down on a command by Patrolman John Holshue but then cut in front of the officer.

Mayor Warren estimated about $500 damage to the 1952 Ford cruiser which was purchased about a month ago.

A spokesman for the Illinois Neuropsychiatric Hospital emphasized that the condition of both Rodney and Roger, separated from their head-to-head connection 12 days ago, is critical.

Roger, the twin who lost his connection with their common brain drainage blood vessel—the sagittal sinus—in the 12 hour 40 minute operation Dec. 17 is still in a coma. Rodney, who has the benefit of the large vein and some brain covering membrane sacrificed by Roger, is alert and apparently near normal.

Both twins are receiving adequate nourishment.

The great danger is possibility of infection which could prove fatal within a matter of minutes.

Roger, with virtually no dura mater—the membrane which encases the brain—has a substitute membrane of a plastic substance, polyethylene. This is covered by a layer of aluminum foil. Over this is a bandage.

Rodney, who has about two-thirds of the top of his brain covered with natural dura mater, has substantially the same head covering as his brother.

Rodney has been taken off of oxygen. Roger still gets supplemental oxygen.

In feeding, the care of the twins varies greatly. Rodney gets a normal diet for a 15-month-old baby—strained foods, orange juice and milk. He doesn't like milk. He drinks his orange juice eagerly.

Rodney, because of his coma which has been unremitting since the operation, is fed through a tube passed through one nostril and down his esophagus to his stomach.

3 Vehicles Collide In Lisbon Accident

LISBON—Police here reported the occupants of two cars and the driver of a truck were shaken up in a three-vehicle collision Sunday night at 6:50 at the intersection of Chestnut St. and W. Lincoln Way.

Police said to brakes failed on a truck operated by Richard Coleman of Lisbon and he crashed into a car driven by William G. Welch of Elyria. Welch's car then hit an auto driven by Dean Adams of RD 3, Lisbon.

Considerable damage was reported to Welch's auto and minor damage to the other two vehicles.

Charles W. Carnes of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs on a reckless driving charge and $20 and costs for driving an unsafe car at a hearing Saturday before Mayor Wilbur Warren.

Carnes was cited Saturday by the State Highway Patrol at Salem following a minor accident on the Calcutta Rd.

Walter Holmes Jr. of Massillon was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Warren on a reckless operation charge after crash a traffic light in East Liverpool. He was cited Saturday by the patrol.

Tougher Laws Against Reds In Labor Demanded

Mine Union Charges McCarran Seeks To Break Organization

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee backed up a House committee today in coupling a plea to unions to toss out any Communist leaders with a call for tougher laws against subversives in organized labor.

The Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) issued its report to the Senate on a four-day hearing at Salt Lake City last October into the leadership of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (UMMSW).

In a statement from its headquarters, the union accused McCarran of "acting on behalf of big mine operators in a campaign to behead and dismember this union."

Expelled From C.I.O.

The union, now unaffiliated, was expelled by the CIO in 1950 on the ground that it followed the Communist party line.

The subcommittee report exhorted the 100,000-member union to "rid itself of its present leadership" and called for a federal law to:

1. Bar Communists from holding office in or being employed by any labor organization.
2. Permit employers to fire workers who belong to organizations designated by the attorney general as subversive.

McCarran introduced such a bill in the last Congress but it died in a judiciary subcommittee.

The miners' union statement said McCarran "aims to wreck this union by the same methods he is using in his wild attempt to wreck the United Nations."

Challenged Transcript

It challenged the committee's transcript of the hearing, saying there were errors and omissions and adding: "We intend to request that the Senate take appropriate steps to learn whether these errors and omissions are inadvertent or whether something more sinister was involved."

The McCarran subcommittee report follows the final year-end report to Congress released Saturday night by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The House committee denounced Communism in some trade unions as "a national disgrace" and recommended repeal of a Taft-Hartley law requirement that union officials must file non-Communist affidavits.

Benefits Reds, Charge

"This provision of the law, after a start as intended by its authors, is now working to the benefit of members of the Communist party engaged in the field of labor," the House committee said.

Under the provision, it was explained, an individual could swear in the non-Communist affidavit that he was not a member of the Communist party on the day he signed it but could be a member the day before and the day after.

The House committee also renewed its previous recommendations that:

1. Spies and saboteurs be subjected to the death penalty in peacetime as they are in wartime.
2. Wire-tapped testimony be admitted as evidence in espionage cases.
3. The executive branch of government open its secret files more freely to congressional investigators.

City Firemen Answer Calls To Two Blazes

Two minor fire calls—one Sunday and the other this morning—were answered by city firemen, Chief Clarence Wright reported today.

A blaze in the car owned by William Taylor of McDonald was extinguished Sunday at 4:03 p.m. at 225 Hawley Ave. A scare fire caused by an overheated ash pit at the residence of Walter Deming of 910 S. Lincoln Ave. today at 11:07 a.m. was also put out.

New Congress May Put Atom To Work In Civilian Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Congress may give the atom a job in civilian life.

Within two or three years, officials estimate, a small pioneer "package" atomic plant could be producing limited quantities of electric power for industry.

In five years or less, a large central atomic plant could be built, generating energy by the millions of kilowatts instead of thousands, and also turning out plutonium for atom bombs.

But today there are no plans to construct either.

Industry is not ready to risk millions of dollars of stockholders' money in experimental plants that hold little promise of profits for many years. The Atomic Energy Commission is not yet ready to divert the money or resources from defense.

These proposals and others, however, are almost certain to be heard early in the new year before the joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), outgoing chairman, has announced he will ask for hearings quickly on industrial participation in the atomic program, now a government monopoly.

It may require anywhere from 10 to 50 years, according to expert estimates compiled in a report this month by the congressional committee, before atomic-generated electric power can be made cheaply enough to compete with energy from coal, oil or water power.

To shorten the time, officials and industry experts agree, it probably will be necessary to gain experience from the erection and operation of experimental plants and prototype reactors. They estimated the cost at five million dollars or more for the little "package" power plant and 60 to 80 million dollars for the large plant that would turn out both power and plutonium.

Pressure is building up on Congress and the AEC to break the ice—to work out some kind of industry-government partnership which will enlist the driving force of private competition in atomic development. The idea of a perpetual government monopoly is not accepted by AEC, Congress, or industry.

The AEC is writing a report on its views for the proposed congressional hearings. It also created this fall an office of industrial development, with orders to plan for a day when "industry will carry on its own a substantial part of the national atomic program."

A former AEC commissioner, T. Keith Glennan, president of Cleveland's Case Institute of Technology, urged chemical manufacturers a few days ago to help set up an association of companies in all fields related to nuclear fission. This group could put forth industry's views at the important congressional hearings, Glennan said.

The immediate objectives are limited. Real-life prospects do not indicate early fulfillment of any dreams of autos which operate for their lifetime on one atomic pill, or cities which are fueled, lighted and heated by an atomic storage battery.

Where cost counts little, as in matters of national security, wonders are possible. An atomic submarine is on the way and an atomic warplane may be in the air within a decade. These could lead to atom-powered ocean liners, air transports and even locomotives.

But atomic reactors are bulky and costly.

They present enormous problems in the conversion of heat to power and in disposal of radioactive waste; they must be walled behind six feet of concrete or the equivalent.

Proposals include:

1. An industry proposal that AEC build and own a pilot-plant reactor. Once it is completed and technical questions answered, industry might invest in a full-scale plant.

2. Another industry plan, from Dow Chemical Co. and Detroit Edison Co.: That government research be continued until technical problems are solved, whereon "the two companies would like to build and operate a commercial sized reactor plant using private capital and without recourse to governmental funds."

3. A proposal having considerable support in government and industry: The government would build and own a reactor to make power and plutonium; on the same site, private utilities would build the necessary facilities to take off the energy and distribute it. No change in the atomic energy act would be needed.

4. The "power package" proposal: This plan, under serious AEC consideration, calls for federal construction of a small plant in an isolated area where conventional power is excessively high priced. AEC is now making a survey of such marginal power areas where atomic energy might be competitive.

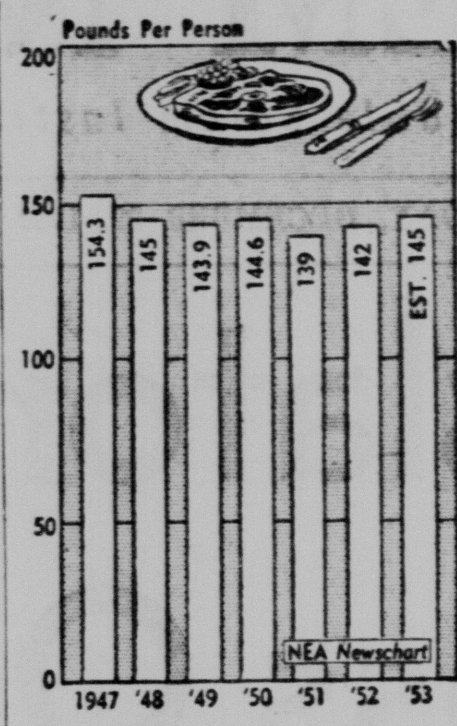

5. The all-government approach: AEC might build the first plant and generate power for its own use. The atomic program, far from adding to the country's power capacity, next year will be consuming 2½ per cent of all power produced.

6. The foundation proposal: Advanced by a former AEC member, this plan suggests private foundations pool their funds to finance an atomic power plant for developmental purposes.

7. The offshore proposal: An atomic power plant might pay its way in countries where electricity costs more than in the United States; several have suggested that "point four" appropriations might be used to build a pioneer reactor in some underdeveloped country.

TAX RATES LOWERED

HAMILTON, O. (AP)—Property owners in Hamilton received good news over the weekend from auditor R. H. Smith. The tentative tax rate payable in 1953 has been set at $22.89 for each $1,000 valuation, 82 cents less than last year.

MORE MEAT PER PERSON

—According to latest figures released by the American Meat Institute, there will be enough meat available to supply every person in the U. S. with about 145 pounds in 1953. This is an increase of three pounds per person over the 1952 consumption. Newschart above traces meat supply per person from 1947 to the present.

Good Business Seen For First Half Of 1953

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel industry analysts are growing more optimistic about the last half of 1952, and "good business for the first half is in the bag," Steel magazine said today.

Because steel-producing capacity will mount to 120 million tons next year, some analysts feel the 1953 production rate will need to be only about 90 per cent, or around 105 million tons, the weekly metal working magazine reported.

Part of the time this year the industry operated at as high as 106 per cent of rated capacity, but the over-all rate for the year was only 86 per cent, or about 93 million tons. That was because of last summer's two-month-long national steel strike.

For the long term, however, Steel added, these analysts do not feel 120 million tons of capacity will be too much, in view of the country's expanding population.

If the supply situation eases next year, Steel said, outright reductions in standard prices on steel are unlikely to follow. Instead, there probably will be disappearance of premium prices, improvement of quality, and absorption of more freight costs.

Last week the Christmas holidays dropped ingot output 2.5 points to 103 per cent of rated capacity.

53,000 Army Draftees Sought For February

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today asked selective service for 53,000 draftees in February, the biggest levy for manpower in almost two years. All requests are for the Army.

The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force have returned to their original pograms of depending on volunteer recruiting.

Today's announcement brings the total of calls since the draft re-started in September, 1950, to 1,255,430.

The February levy compares with peak calls for 80,000 men in January, February and March, 1951. The next highest call was 70,000 for November, 1950.

1953 Predictions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time for our annual fuzzy forecast of what lies ahead in the coming year. Yes, what's to be in '53?

It isn't an easy question to answer. The old crystal ball is more clouded than usual this season. However, you can bet right now that:

The Korean police action will change from the present stalemate in which the robbers are arresting the cops.

A new cure for the common cold will be trumpeted in February—and abandoned by April. Most people will decide the best way to get well is to go to bed.

Two new mysterious viruses—"Y" and "Z"—will be discovered for patients who decide virus "X" is no longer either mysterious or fashionable.

As most women will become a year older, the number of blondes will increase remarkably.

Somewhere in Florida a motorist, annoyed by a buzzing in the engine, will lift up the hood of his car—and find an angry rattlesnake, coiled to strike. (For some reason this has happened somewhere in Florida every year since the invention of the motor car, except in 1927, when it happened somewhere in North Carolina.)

In late spring Coach Frank Leahy will announce the football situation at Notre Dame is hopeless. His team will end the 1953 season undefeated, untied, hailed as one of the greatest in history.

A new kind of cheap frozen food, palatable to both man and dog, will be developed. This will enable more wives to take the kids on summer vacations, secure in the knowledge that back home their husband and the family pet will be able to fix an easy meal they can enjoy together.

The cost of living will rise slightly, and so will skirts. So will men's interest.

Interest in economy will pick up markedly in both government and private life. One sign will be a new article of feminine apparel marketed by a budget-minded designer—a lady's hat that can also be used as a handbag.

The literary world will be flooded by the published memoirs of 1,312 ex-Democratic officeholders, all giving the "only true inside story" of what has been going on in Washington.

Some 1,312 new Republican officeholders will begin keeping secret diaries as an investment against the day of their own unemployment.

The calls for a cut in taxes will become louder, but remain as academic as ever. Five cities will adopt a municipal income tax, but reject attempts to force the licensing of cats.

The five-cent hot dog will remain a memory, the 10-cent hot dog will grow no larger.

A slowly falling birth rate plus an increase in the number of teenagers and even more elderly people will result in a sharp price war among baby sitters. It's the old problem of supply outstripping demand.

As more women take jobs now held by men, a male movement for equal rights will be launched. The organizations will hire a lady public relation expert.

And the average human being in 1953 will go right on holding his job, living in faith with those he loves—and desperately hoping that no one will blow apart the little world that, for all its faults and failures, is the best world he knows.

Holiday Mishaps Kill 48 Ohioans

Lausche, Patrol Blast 'Highway Slaughter'

By The Associated Press

The governor and the State Highway Patrol today were reeking ways to prevent another series of accidents like the one which claimed 48 lives in Ohio during the four-day Christmas holiday.

An Associated Press survey covering the period from 6 p. m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday showed the state set a new record for a similar period with 43 dead in traffic accidents, two in fires and three from miscellaneous causes.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche blamed most of the traffic accidents on excessive speed. He proposed installation of mechanical devices on cars to limit their speed.

Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the patrol, promised "drastic action" to stop what he termed "highway slaughter."

Mingle said the patrol has increased its enforcement facilities some 200 per cent since last winter. He said efforts this year to curb accidents were hampered because 66 of his patrolmen still are stationed at Ohio Penitentiary, scene of a Halloween riot and fire.

Gov. Lausche said he was certain the patrolmen on special duty at the prison would be returned to normal duty by the first of the year.

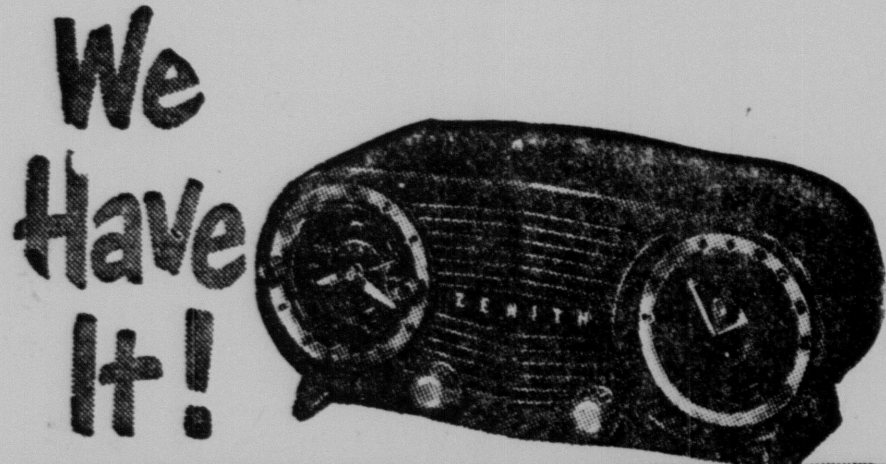

Ohio's holiday death toll was one of the highest in the nation. Ohio's mark last year was 29, including 12 traffic deaths, 13 fire deaths and four miscellaneous.

The governor, in a statement, said on a proportionate basis Ohio still is below other states in highway deaths. He said:

"Ohio is fifth in population and 34th in geographical area. There is probably no other state in the nation that has as much traffic on the highways as Ohio. On the basis of population, I think it will appear Ohio, in spite of the tragically large number of fatal accidents, will rank below other states on a proportionate comparison."

Cleveland Business

Dropped In 1952

CLEVELAND (AP)—Business fell off in Cleveland during 1952, but not much, the Federal Reserve Bank said today.

The bank's research department said it would be easy to blame last summer's steel strike "except for the fact that very similar results were obtained in a year-to-year comparison made at the end of June, before the effects of the strike had spread much."

Cuyahoga County issued permits for buildings worth $205 million, off 2 per cent from 1951 but only 5 per cent less than the record year of 1950.

Electric power production, however, reached a record 6 billion kilowatt hours, up from 1951 by 9 per cent a week.

Steel production in the Cleveland-Lorain district totaled 4,500,000 tons, about 6 per cent less than 1951.

Unemployment claims averaged 7,500 a week, less than last year's average.

About 56,000 new passenger cars were sold in the county, 17 per cent fewer than 1951.

Department store sales were off an estimated 2 per cent.

O'Dwyer Passport Urged Revoked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) says he will ask the Eisenhower administration to take away the passport of William O'Dwyer, former New York mayor, as a means of prodding O'Dwyer to return to the United States.

O'Dwyer, recently resigned U. S. ambassador to Mexico, has given no indication of plans to leave that country. He has been under fire of the New York Crime Commission and the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Watkins conceded in an interview yesterday that revoking O'Dwyer's passport in itself might not force O'Dwyer's return, but he said, "It is a first step, and we should take it."

A U. S. consular official in Mexico City said that, if O'Dwyer's passport were canceled, he could stay indefinitely in Mexico as long as the Mexican government granted its approval.

Testimony Sought On Interference To Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee called today for public testimony on reports that justice officials tried to interfere with a grand jury inquiry into subversives in the United Nations.

The federal grand jury, ending work in New York early this month, recommended that a new grand jury continue an investigation of U. S. citizens with Communist associations who are on the U. N. staff.

The judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating the Justice Department has been checking into reports that an attempt was made to get the jury to delay or tone down its recommendation on the subject.

After closed-door testimony was taken 10 days ago, Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) and Re. Keating (R-NY) told newsmen that what they heard, made their blood boil.

Pair To Be Tried For Helping Illegal Entry

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Federal Appeals Court today upheld the indictment of a U. S. citizen and a Mexican on charges of helping Nationalist China's former purchasing agent, Lt. Gen. Pang Tsu Mow, enter this country illegally.

Mow is being held for extradition on charges by the Formosa government of making away with $12 million dollars of his country's money. There has been no decision on the Chinese request that he be returned to Formosa for trial.

Shortly after Mow's arrest last August, Oliver M. Kissick of Berkeley, Calif., and Pedro Casar Acha of Mexico City were charged with helping him enter the country illegally. Judge Antonio Fernandez Vera ordered them held for trial and they appealed the order. The Appeals Court today upheld the judge's order but no date was set yet for the trial.

Truman Is Honored By Human Rights Council

CLEVELAND (AP)—A bronze plaque honoring President Truman was presented Sunday by the American Council on Human Rights.

It was accepted on behalf of the president by Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman. The award praised Mr. Truman for his "forthright contribution to human rights and equality for all mankind."

The council is composed of six Negro collegiate fraternities and sororities.

M'Arthur Calls Truman Note On Firing Wrong

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's description of a statement by President Truman as "inaccurate and misleading" today stimulated anew the controversy around the general's ouster as Far East commander.

MacArthur, in a statement issued here last night, took issue with a reported comment by Truman that he relieved MacArthur because the general "wanted to involve us in all-out war in the Far East."

The United Press quoted the President as making the statement Saturday in an interview he gave to its White House correspondent. It was one of a series of year-end interviews granted by the President to White House newsmen.

In Washington last night, White House Press Secretary Roger Tubby said Truman would have no comment on the MacArthur statement. Tubby said the President "made his statement and is sticking by it."

Courtney Whitney, retired major general and a top aide of MacArthur, gave out the latter's statement. It said in full:

"President Truman's statement yesterday (Saturday), as reported in the press, that I 'wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East' is inaccurate and misleading."

"My purpose and desire was not to extend the war but only to end it. At that time, this could have been accomplished with only a fraction of the approximately 70,000 American battle casualties which have since resulted. Actually, the longer it lasts the greater the chance of its spreading. How anyone could use such a bloody drama as a means of self-glorification is quite beyond my comprehension."

It was not made clear whether the "self-glorification" remark was aimed at Truman or was intended by MacArthur to point up his own position in the controversy.

MacArthur, now chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., was fired by Truman April 11, 1951. Truman then said in a formal statement that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support" to U. S. and United Nations policies in Korea.

Fierce Attack By Chinese Hurdled Back

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Reds hurled their heaviest attack in two weeks against embattled Sniper Ridge last night but the massed fire of dug-in Allied infantrymen drove them back.

The crack of rifle and machine-gun fire echoed across the frozen Kumhwa Ridges on the Central Front for five hours in the frigid predawn darkness.

The Reds first attacked with two platoons, then built up to company strength—almost 200 men. The Chinese lost an estimated 42 men in their abortive assault on a spur of Sniper Ridge known as Rocky Point.

Only brief and isolated fights were reported elsewhere along the front.

An officer on the Western Front said the Chinese shaply increased their artillery fire on that sector late today. The Red gunners dumped 600 rounds into a comparatively small area. They have been unusually quiet on the Western Front for several days.

Cloudy skies and snow squalls grounded most Allied warplanes.

A 200-plane raid by Allied aircraft Sunday blasted a sprawling troop center near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. Sabre jets flying protective cover destroyed two Communist MIG15s, probably destroyed a third and damaged a fourth.

10 Missing Or Dead In Navy Plane Crash

TOKYO (AP)—The Navy announced today that a four-engine flying boat crashed in the Sea of Japan Friday night. Ten of its 14 crew members are dead or missing.

Four survivors were picked up by a U. S. destroyer. A Navy spokesman said the plane, a Navy PBM, crashed about 50 miles east of Kosong off the east coast of Korea.

The four survivors were brought to the U. S. naval base at Yokosuka about 30 miles south of Tokyo today. Two were hospitalized and the other two were scheduled to be returned to duty.

Cause of the crash was believed to be mechanical trouble.

Benefit Fund Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—High employment and a rise in the number of workers covered by state unemployment insurance laws boosted funds available for jobless benefits a half-billion dollars to a record total of $8,400,000,000 in 1952, the Labor Department reported yesterday.

Bazooka Shell Found Lying In Busy Street

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sgt. Joseph W. Koerber was driving along in the stream of Sunday traffic when his sharp eye spied an object in the street.

He jammed on the brakes, skidded for 25 feet and managed to miss a bazooka shell by a hair. Koerber, who is in the 110th Field Artillery of the Maryland National Guard, called police.

A policeman gingerly carried the shell, the kind used in tank warfare, to a grass plot beside the road. It was three hours before a bomb disposal expert arrived. Nothing to worry about, he said. The shell was empty.

"It scared me to death," Koerber admitted. Police haven't figured out how the missile got there.

Speaking Of Coalitions

While the French are figuring out how to prop up another government with a temporary arrangement of splinter parties, the same problem is sneaking up in the United States.

Circumstances will give southern Democrats the balance of legislative power in the new government which takes office next month. As in France, where the minority which lands in this strategic spot calls the tune, the "solid southerners" will be as ruthless as the law of political survival allows.

They are as capable of going back to their own party if they cannot have their own way under the Republicans as they were capable of deserting to the Republicans when the New Deal affronted them. And the Republicans need their votes to put through a legislative program.

The two-party system in American politics always has been more apparent than real. Behind the outward appearance of things there always has been at least one floating minority wafted hither and yon by gusts of political expediency.

Watch the "solid southerners" when the Eisenhower regime takes over next month. They can make the GOP look good with their support or break it with their dissent — the formula for political blackmail in more places than France.

Incident In New York

More than 500 tents modified for cold weather will house U.S. troops assigned to anti-aircraft batteries in the New York City area the rest of the winter because building trades unions will permit nothing better.

The army had ordered prefabricated housing units for the troops, and the units had been delivered. But the unions threatened to call a nationwide strike if the army put up prefabricated units.

It insisted that soldiers should mark time while unionists of the building trades drew the going private rate for doing the soldiers' work. Since there was not provision in the budget for this expense, the commander in charge had no choice but to fall back on tents.

The building trades unions claim no jurisdiction over tents. If they insisted on the right to erect this type of military shelter, they might have to perform in such far places as Korea and Greenland.

After the New York Crime Commission gets through investigating what unions have been doing to the greatest port in the world, it might be followed up by a commission to learn what unions have been doing to the greatest city in the world.

Women Only

A British Railways plan to operate certain of its trains for women only next year may be sidetracked. But it's being considered. Men should take note.

Apparently, only English women would want exclusive rights on trains. But by the token that England foreruns the United States by about a generation, sometimes a little less, American men should not miss the implication.

Women-only theaters, ships and even towns may be next. All-women bars, clubs and entertainments may be the reciprocal answer to the stag arrangements so cherished by American males. This generation, itself, has seen the all-girl orchestra, for what that may signify.

English husbands, a canny lot, may be behind the all-women train. Perhaps in permitting their wives to take separate summer vacation trips by rail they don't want strange men prying windows open, hoisting luggage overhead, striking up conversations and otherwise proving to be charming while the women are already half inclined to feel a little sorry for themselves.

Business Was Good

Judged by any of the ordinary standards, Christmas business was good. Money volume and unit volume were satisfactory.

That is to say they compared favorably with previous years. What is presumably going to be the last holiday buying season in a long era of rising prices and declining money values stacked up well.

The next year is likely to bring a showdown on the long-continued supposition that new high levels must be reached each year to prove there has been a satisfactory performance.

If the systematic destruction of money values, ceases, as is the intent of the next secretary of treasury, George M. Humphrey, and his associates, dollar volume will be stabilized in all lines of endeavor.

It will be as unrealistic to make comparisons on an annual basis as it has been during the years when business was accused of taking twice as much profit merely because its balance sheets showed twice as many dollars of less than half as much value.

American children wear out an average of more than three pairs of shoes a year. They have to scrape to do it.

Isolate Kremlin

By DAVID LAWRENCE

That's What Ike Should Attempt To Do

Have President-elect Eisenhower and Secretary of State-Designate John Foster Dulles made their first serious mistake in shaping prospective foreign policy? Replying publicly to Premier Stalin's ambiguously worded comment on a press inquiry about the chances of peace, the leaders of the next administration have promised to give "serious and sympathetic" consideration to "concrete proposals."

Is this a commitment that will involuntarily compel the United States government to engage in a series of time-consuming steps during protracted negotiations while the stalemate in Korea goes on indefinitely?

This would repeat the error so often made by the Truman-Acheson administration of asking Stalin to call the turn-of waiting for Russia to state the terms and then arguing for months on end, as in Panmunjom, only to discover that Stalin means nothing except continued tension.

IT WASN'T necessary for the president-elect to say anything at all in commend on a Moscow answer to a newspaper inquiry. General Eisenhower is not yet president and, strictly speaking, under the old but still effective Logan Act, nobody can speak for the government of the United States except President Truman until Jan. 20, 1953.

The whole incident is a tragic example of the inferiority complex that seems to have dominated not only official Washington but diplomats of the western powers and their allies. It is journalistically enterprising to ask Stalin questions about his future intentions—for he gets such inquiries by the dozens every week from the press of the world. There is always the chance he will choose to answer one in order to carry out propaganda maneuvers.

But the moment the Communist ruler utters a few sentences, insulting and impertinent though they may be, the rest of the world reacts as if an omnipotent or omniscient potentate of respectable prestige had spoken. From all corners of the world then comes the usual comment over the press-association wires telling why this or that government feels the peace "feeler" may be the real thing and should be "explored," because the American government cannot afford to be in the position of rejecting a "peace bid" by Stalin.

ONE WONDER is how short are the memories of these diplomats. The long drawn out and futile talks at Panmunjom and the bitter harangues by Soviet spokesmen over the so-called prisoner-of-war issue at the United Nations assembly only yesterday emphasized how arrogantly Moscow can behave. The Soviet government feels it can dictate the terms of peace and will continue to feel that way so long as the western nations fortify that impression by their passive or submissive attitudes and lack of unity.

One wonders how many more American boys have to be killed in Korea with Russian-made jet planes and Russian artillery supplied to Chinese and North Korean Communist armies before the United Nations, including the American government, will summon up enough moral indignation to expel the Soviet union from the family of civilized nations as did the League of Nations just before World War II.

On wonders, too, how long diplocontinued with a government in Moscow that has been faithless to its pledges and which today is being supplied raw materials for war-making by nations supposed to be allied with the western powers.

To assume that the criminals in the Kremlin are capable of making any peace that will be kept is to assume the sincerity of the Communist envoys who have for several months been giving an example of treachery in an armistice negotiation at Panmunjom. To take seriously proposals for a conference now is to forget the many international conferences held since 1945 without results because the Moscow regime thinks of itself as the dictator of the terms of an expected surrender by the west.

PRESIDENT-ELECT Eisenhower and his new secretary of state have an opportunity to take the initiative in telling Moscow what the terms of peace are and demanding as a prerequisite to any future conference that the Soviets withdraw their armies from all satellite countries, including North Korea, failing which a world-wide embargo and blockade and a policy of nonrecognition of all the Communist governments would ensue.

The moral force of the world is strong enough, if united solidly, to isolate the Kremlin from the Russian people without indulging in war or threats of war. Policies here have to change, however, from an attitude of begging to an attitude of telling—and a readiness to meet force with force if the Kremlin decides to embark on any more wars.

The unofficial comments in various capitals of the latest Stalin utterance show that, instead of keeping Stalin guessing, there is a tendency to let Stalin sit in the driver's seat and keep the West guessing.

Maybe the new administration was hurried into its decision the other day to comment on Stalin's answers to a press inquiry. If so, it doesn't augur well for the future. The diplomacy of the United States has too often been run around by Russia's propaganda strategists. It is time for a change.

Diplomatic Hats

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The black homburg is like a fraternity pin. Diplomats wear it like a sign which says "I am a diplomat."

The hat with the uprolled edge and the deep crown is in such general use among diplomats that it is practically a tribal headgear.

But at least diplomats have been considered a gentlemanly group whose language, while not always clear, has been extremely restrained even when threatening the most frightening reprisals.

Then the Russians got in on the act and, as usual, caused considerable confusion.

They have come to be regarded in world capitals as the bully boys of diplomacy, the dead end kids of statecraft.

Since they seem to have worked hard at perpetuating this rough-neck image of themselves, it comes as a shock to see their main man, Stalin, switch to a method which seems almost kittenish. It was just a little to cute.

He is either sick of the Korean War and wishes he hadn't let it start, or he isn't. He either wants to come to an understanding with the West or he doesn't.

In any event, he could have done business, if he wanted to, through normal channels.

Instead, when he wanted to see he'd look favorably upon peace

Our National Security

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The American people are not accustomed to concerning themselves over the question of national security, because in the past such problems did not arise. We have had traitors of the type of Benedict Arnold or bitter intrasignants such as Aaron Burr, but in peace or war Americans have been habitually loyal to their country.

The Alger Hiss case, the Remington and Coplan cases, the exposure of the Harold Ware cell, the self-destruction of Laurence Dugan, the grand jury and McCarran Committee exposures of American Communists and Americans who acted as spies for another country in the United Nations, the Lattimore case the Vincent, Service, Davies situations in the State Department — these and many other problems raise the question of national security within the government itself.

TO THEM must be added the shocking theft of the atom bomb by obscure individuals, spies on behalf of Soviet Russia, who evaded all the security provisions designed to safeguard America's most important military secret.

And to it must be added the leaks concerning the H-bomb, a horrifying performance which establishes beyond doubt that the security provisions in existence are not good and need revision both as to plan and performance.

This is the only country in the world where agents and spies of a foreign land, who have themselves declared that to answer for their deeds would incriminate them, walk about as free men.

IT IS ABSURD that the only law under which such men as Hiss can be tried is perjury. It is absurd that agents and spies, held for contempt by Congress or even by the courts, are free to do as they choose.

I find that a Committee on the Present Danger has emerged as a wresler for righteous causes.

However, those who have been active in anti-Communist efforts in this country who have dug up witnesses for congressional committees, who have gathered together ex-Communists to testify and to find data and individuals, have risked their careers and their lives. Such anti-Communists will not associate themselves with the Committee on the Present Danger because they do not find in the records of those active in it a consistent and prolonged anti-Communism.

THERE IS no need to establish a sanctuary for those who failed to recognize the danger in the 1930's and 1940's.

These Johnnies-come-lately have to be distrusted because they are merely following popular fashion, which is not good enough. A college president who fought for a pro-Russian professor cannot place himself in anti-Communist leadership and expect any support from those who know his record as he made it himself.

National security begins at home and no one can be excluded from its operations.

We are at war today; we are engaged in an active, bitter, daily war in which Americans are being killed. Whoever aids our enemies, in small or great ways, is a peril to our country. If the laws are inadequate to curb his activities, new legislation should be passed.

The Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, and the House Committee on Un-American Activities need to push into legislation at the earliest possible moment.

ONE OF THE most urgent acts is to remove altogether the Statute of Limitations involving espionage. If an American ever engaged in espionage, he should be liable for punishment whenever the case is provable. There is no reason why spies should be given another chance to spy again.

Our sons may during the next few years die violently in war because our national security is weak. They may die because a Russian spy, like Gubitchev, when caught, is sent back to Russia with all the information in his possession.

It is not that we are generous; it is only that we are incompetent and that those who are functioning have been stupid. Both conditions can be corrected.

The Americans in the United Nations who are betraying their country were found out by the untiring persistence of two young lawyers, Robert Morris and Roy Cohn, supported by the McCarran Committee and Attorney General James McGranery. They were fought by many who now hope to establish credit for their work, and the job could have been wrecked had their stupidity prevailed.

The national security cannot be entrusted to position-proud stuffed-shirts with a habit of covering up the errors of an administration.

Theorists Unfroked

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The importance of experienced and successful businessmen in the Eisenhower regime may well bring a vast change in the character of economists who wield influence in making government policy.

For twenty years, the influence of economics has been much greater than was wise or wholesome.

Perhaps it would be more correct to say that the trouble has been not so much the importance assumed by economists, but the kind of economists who have been important.

It is certainly true that never in our history has a single group or profession, hitherto confined to academic life, enjoyed such prominence in public affairs.

Like many other trends of the past two decades, this originated in the depression.

Our economic plumbing had got out of order and it seemed that the best experts to call in were the experts in economics.

The statesmen who summoned them were perhaps not aware that there were many kinds of economists, with an infinite variety of theories.

But Roosevelt, who always proceeded by trial and error, at first called all sorts and conditions. The process of natural, or rather Rooseveltian selection took place.

Conservative economists soon dropped out. Those with alluring and unconventional "cures" for old, stubborn problems were embraced and kept.

These favored ones brought in others of their like, until the economist host spread into many departments, bureaus and commissions.

It must not be assumed that politicians like Roosevelt seized upon the theoreticians because they were of a scientific or academic mind. They were first and last concerned with votes. And they prevailed in this quasi-scientific discipline, with its quickness with figures, its fright-colored charts, and its slick semantics, a political instrument of great potentialities.

With this magic at hand, politicians could get away with their old tricks under the innocent mark of "scientific" certainty or necessity.

Of course, the most useful doctrine was that of compensatory spending, of which John Maynard Keynes was a major prophet and hundreds of American academicians were disciples. Its great trick was a famous "multiplier k," which was used in the writings of Keynes.

Rufus Tucker, economist for General Motors Corporation, in a delightful article on "Symbolism in Economics," has this to say of "k":

"This is supposed to represent the relation between increases in consumption and concomitant increases in investment as national income increases; and the conclusion is drawn that by increasing investment by a certain amount the national income can be increased by 'k' times that amount. This reasoning overlooks the proved and obvious fact that the relation between consumption and investment is not a fixed factor deriving from inherent and immutable characteristics of human nature or organized society; it has varied enormously over the years and from place to place."

Tucker makes this profoundly important comment about the perversion of economic symbols by politics. He says that while "k" may be an interesting toy for students of pure theory, it is a dangerous instrument for guiding national policy.

To apply a hackneyed expression, economists should be "on tap, not on top."

That is where the businessmen summoned by Eisenhower are likely to keep them.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Newsreel Again

A few days ago a New Brunswick, N. J., man tossed a garbage can through a lunchroom window and pretty much wrecked the joint. Arrested, it developed that his outbreak was the result of these occurrences:

1—He ordered his eggs medium-boiled and they were served extra soft. 2—He rejected them and asked for them medium-boiled. 3—Again the chef sent them out soft.

A judge sentenced him (the customer, not the chef, mind you) to 90 days in the bastille.

It is this department's contention that the cook, the waiter and proprietor should be tossed into the hoosegow for at least as long a period, and then released on probation in care of somebody who knows how to cook an egg as ordered.

There is hardly a lunchroom or restaurant patron in America who has not had trouble getting any attention paid to his preferences in boiled or fried eggs.

All restaurant patrons stand firmly behind any movement to free this New Brunswick customer and to demand that, before being appointed to any bench, a judge pass an egg test proving that he knows a soft-boiled egg from a medium or hard-boiled one and thinks chefs should be similarly intelligent.

We are Exalted Ruler and Imperial Poobah of the World Organization for Obtaining Eggs as Ordered. This association holds it to be man's constitutional right to hurl an ashcan or anything else when a lunchroom not only serves the first order unfit to eat, but repeats it a second time. (It believes a man should be permitted, in fact, to hurl lighter articles at waiter and chef for the first offense.)

It is the organization's aim to make it legal and highly proper for a customer to go berserk when a perfectly understandable request is made to have the toast well done is completely ignored, in accordance with a creed rigidly adhered to by 80 per cent of all restaurant chefs and waiters in the world.

It is only a few days since people were warmed by the spell of Christmas. . . . Generosity and good will were in the air. . . . Yet already cries of "Keep those kids quiet; I gotta get some rest" are ringing through the home, the Christmas cards are being put away for another year, pop is wondering how to dispose of the tree and mom's request, "Could you let me have a couple of dollars?" brings an indignant, "Am I made of money?"

The cherubs who sang the Yuletide carols are blazing away at one another with Christmas air rifles, the gift you bought your girl for $22.50 is now in the window marked, "Closing Out at $11.98," and the boss who was such a jolly old elf at the office party is Old Sourpuss again.

Looking back over the Yuletide, we can be thankful for the fact there were no song hits called, "I Saw Popper Kissing Cupid and a Vixen," or "I Observed Rudie the Red-Nosed Reindeer Embracing Susie Snowflake."

Oscar Hammerstein, who was a top producer of hit musicals when his famous nephew Oscar II was in kneepants, celebrated his 80th birthday in Florida the other day.

George Kaufman didn't win any friends on the last "Show Biz" telecast when he said, "Let's keep this one program that never sang 'Silent Night.'"

The famous Willie Howard sketch, "Please pay the two dollars," in which Willie kept making this plea to lawyers who shunted him from court to court is topped by the experience of Frank Costello, whose lawyers' employment of a technicality in the law got him transferred away out into a plain hoosegow in Michigan from a cosy modern prison in sunny Georgia. . . . They wanted him freed on an obscure clause which made his confinement in a penitentiary instead of a common jail illegal.

If Clifton Webb looks like John Philip Sousa we are the spitting image of Ulysses S. Grant.

"The Children's Hour" is as absorbing today as it was years ago. . . . Split reviews, half of them saying the show was swell and half saying it lacked everything, including music, lyrics and sketches, have been a good thing for the "Two's Company." . . . Everybody wants to go and make up his own mind.

Lucille Ball's impending motherhood is the basic element in current "I Love Lucy" scripts and this may be said to be the first time a place for the stork has been found in Macy's window.

John Murray Anderson is a wonderman of the theater. . . . Wowed New York 30 years ago with a new technique in "Greenwich Village Follows" and reveals the same wonderful sense of beauty in two current Broadway hits.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FORTY YEARS AGO—A reduction in the water rentals, to be effective on and after April 1, 1913, with a flat rate of $5 and a meter rate of 30 cents per thousand gallons, both of which are the same rates as those under the old water company, has just been decided upon by D. H. Rummel, director of public service.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—Central Europe, "mother of wars," has taken a new year's inventory of her military prospects for the future and finds that there are 300,000 more men under arms at the beginning of 1928 than there were just before the outbreak of the great war in 1914.

Election of officers will be held when Misses Mary Herbert and Olive Vincent are associate hostesses at a meeting of Ruth Circle of the First Friends Church.

TEN YEARS AGO—Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's Legions driving back into Japanese-conquered Burma from India were reported to have reached the vicinity of Rathfaung, 25 miles northwest of the big enemy base at Akyak, after a 75-mile advance through treacherous coastal swamps from the Indian frontier.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Getz and Mrs. Alida Moore were in charge of the dinner when the Three Links Social Club met.

Family Sets Out On 23,000 Mile Trip By Auto With $1,000

NEW YORK (AP)—On Jan. 1, the Walter J. Lamonts and their two children are about ready for their high adventure.

They hope to be the first family to drive the entire distance of the Pan-American Highway, circling South America in a rugged 23,000-mile trip which they expect will take from 18 months to two years to accomplish.

"We've planned a day-by-day itinerary for 18 months," explained pretty blonde Doria Lamont airily and serenely.

"We are going to live for short periods with people in the towns and villages along the way. We'll start off with about $1,000, but we're going to live off the land—hunting and fishing. My husband is an engineer, and he knows about things like that. Our truck is a work vehicle and we can use it to help people who need it along the route."

Walter Lamont sold his Greenwich Village moving company, and the family has acquired a 1½-ton truck with a special steel body which resembles a king-size station wagon. It is equipped with a winch on the front, for use in pulling itself out of trouble and assisting others.

"The highway is the highest and wettest road in the world," said Doria.

Among the equipment going on the trip is a Geiger counter, extra water tanks, altimeter, rifles, cameras.

"We're taking clothing for climates from arctic to tropic," she said. "We're taking medicine for everything from snakebite to frost bite. We've read everything we can lay hands on about the countries we're going through. I understand there's a scorpion whose bite is fatal to children, but not to adults."

The two Lamont children—Russell, 6, and John, 5—will start off wearing blue jeans and T-shirts. "When they wear out, we'll replace them with whatever the natives wear," Doria said. "I'll have to be their schoolteacher, I suppose, although I thought perhaps we'd send them to local schools whenever it was possible. Some places we're going to stay as long as a couple of months."

SHE'S GOT A FUR COAT—The penguin at right, seems to be the topic of jealous conversation for her more formally-clad companions at London's zoo. (The very idea. Wearing a fur coat and putting on airs!). Actually, the furry bird isn't being high-hat. All young penguins are covered with down before acquiring their soup-n-fish suits of feathers.

Ike-Stalin Talks Termed Useless

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) says he doubts anything useful would come of a Churchill-Stalin-Eisenhower meeting right now because Russia's aim is to bleed and divide the West.

But we "must not take the attitude that there is no hope and refuse to meet with them," Fulbright said. The possibility of a personal conference between the Russian Premier and the U. S. President-elect was raised in a Stalin communication to the New York Times Christmas Eve.

Fulbright, a high-ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, recently returned from a tour in Europe. He also told television interviewers yesterday:

1. Voice of America broadcasts should be kept going to the Iron Curtain countries because that is the only means of directly reaching Communist peoples, but U. S. propaganda efforts elsewhere should be cut back or changed.

2. Differences between Northern and Southern Democrats are not as serious as many people believe and can be ironed out in the near future.

Bidault Attempts To Form Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Veteran politician Georges Bidault today took a stab at trying to line up enough support in France's volatile Assembly to permit him to form a Cabinet and end the week-long government crisis.

Bidault, twice premier since the end of World War II, was asked by President Vincent Auriol Sunday to try once again after Jacques Soustelle failed to get enough support for his right-wing French rally party headed by Gen. Charles DeGaulle.

Whether Bidault would have any more success than Soustelle was a question, although he told Auriol today—after sounding out some party leaders—that he was willing to accept the designation as premier and try to round up majority support for a coalition.

Rich Texan Kills Self In Plane

Rancher, 23, Plunges Craft Into Gravel Pit

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—"I just can't face it," a wealthy West Texas rancher radioed after a three-hour air-to-ground argument, then he plunged his bright yellow plane into a gravel pit near here.

The suicide dive yesterday ended frantic, futile pleadings by friends and airport officials with Ollie Williams Cox, 23, owner of the 2,560-acre Heart Herford Ranch, 10 miles south of here.

Civil Aeronautics Administration experts began an investigation of the crash today.

Why Cox carried out his threat to fly around until he ran out of gas and then crash remained a mystery. Threats, jokes and pleadings had no effect as he circled in the brilliant West Texas sky.

"Everything is all messed up," Cox said over and over again.

He joked, broke into tears once, but refused to land the small five-passenger craft. Once he asked the airport to check on any airliners in the vicinity.

"I don't want anybody else to get hurt," he said.

A tape recording was made of the two-way radio conversation but Cox's friends and officials refused to repeat any but a few words of the argument.

"He kept saying something about 'I just can't face it,'" said Dow Patterson, acting chief of the Abilene, Tex., control tower, where two friends sped to talk with Cox. "He had some sort of difficulty and was evidently tired of it all. But I wouldn't want to say on the basis of what I overheard what that trouble was."

Patterson said Cox "ran the gamut of emotions from humor to conversation" during his radio conversation with Earl Critz, Sweetwater filling station operator, and L. M. Hubbard, Sweetwater barber. Critz refused to repeat any of the conversation.

"We pleaded with him... tried to get him to come down," said Hubbard. "We talked to him about his family. He broke down—crying, I think."

While Hubbard tried to talk his friend to safety, Mrs. Hubbard drove to the vast ranch and got Mrs. Cox, who is expecting a child in about a month. After the fatal plunge Mrs. Cox was put to bed under a doctor's care. Relatives took the couple's 3-year-old daughter Karen Kay home with them.

Series Of Sharp Quakes Rock Philippines

MANILA (AP)—A series of sharp earthquakes was felt in the Southern Philippines in the past 24 hours but no damage was reported.

The government geophysical department said the tremors ranged in intensity between three and five on a scale of 10. They were centered in Mindanao Island and the day volcano isle of Camiguin to the north.

Red Guns Hit 21 U.S. Ships During 1952

TOKYO (AP)—Communist gunfire hit 21 U. S. Navy ships off Korea in 1952. The Navy said today in a year-end report. Sixteen officers and men were killed and 55 wounded by the Red attacks.

The only ship lost during the year was the tug Sarsi, which hit a mine in August. Three crew members were killed, three are missing and four were wounded.

The Navy said its planes and warships maintained an "absolute blockade of the enemy coastline" while hammering Red targets along the coast and far inland.

In August and September, the Navy launched its first guided missiles fired against North Korean targets. The pilotless planes were escorted to the target by "mother" planes from U. S. aircraft carriers.

The year-end summary noted these two developments in the spring of 1952: The full force of Communist anti-aircraft fire was felt for the first time, and the wide use of helicopters in evacuating wounded Allied soldiers from the front to hospital ships was started.

Listed as destroyed by Navy planes and warships during the year were 13,425 Communist buildings, 943 bridges, 24 factories, 771 gun positions, 1,915 sampans and other small craft, 344 machine-gun and mortar positions, 15 tanks, 35 ammunition dumps and 592 warehouses.

1st Indian Named As Cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican announced today that Archbishop Valeriano Gracias of Bombay is being named to the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic church.

He takes the place vacated Saturday by the death of Carlo Agostini, Patriarch of Venice. He will be India's first cardinal.

The surprise announcement of his appointment emphasized Pope Pius' determination to bring the college to its full strength of 70 members at the consistory here next month. The college has not had full membership in two centuries.

Gardenia Ball Is Highlight Of Holiday Season Saturday

The Masonic ballroom, transformed into a fairyland cafe setting in green, silver, white and red, made a perfect background for the colorful gowns worn at the highly successful "Gardenia Ball" Saturday evening.

This gay holiday affair was so enjoyable members of the Salem City Hospital Auxiliary, the dance sponsors, plan on holding similar dances each year.

Proceeds this year will be used to purchase bassinets for the obstetrical department. Full reports are not available but the members hope to purchase at least 10 bassinets at $75 each for the hospital.

Chairmen of the event were Mrs. George Perrault and Mrs. Lester Bateman.

Playing the dance program was the Patti-Lynn orchestra from Cleveland.

The dance theme, gardenias, was carried out and brought added funds through their sale. Mrs. Lozier Caplan and Mrs. C. J. Lehwald, Mrs. Ralph Neiman, Mrs. Guy E. Byers, Mrs. Horace Schwartz and Mrs. Richard McConner were in charge of the gardenias.

Before the bandstand were two bassinets just like those that will be purchased. The bassinets, each with a dolly occupant, were arranged by Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. McConner. Mrs. Alroy Bloomberg made the gardenia and white candle arrangement at the beautifully-appointed refreshment table. Student nurses were hostesses.

On the decorating committee were Mrs. Thomas Howett and Mrs. James Wilson Jr., co-chairmen, Mrs. Norman Pedersen Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Reinartz, Webb Mulford and Scott McCormick. Other committees, that made the party a success were:

Mrs. P. O. Mullins, tickets; Mrs. R. T. Holzbach, refreshments; and Mrs. Vincent Horning programs. Included on the patron list are the names of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Astor, Mr. and Mrs. Alroy Bloomberg, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Deming, Mr. and Mrs. George Emeny, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McCulloch Sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sekely, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams of Lisbon and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Zerbs.

Lions Beat Browns, 17-7, For First Title In 17 Years

Detroit Rushing, Defense Sparkle

Doak Walker Runs 67 Yards For Touchdown

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detroit's Lions won their first National Football League crown in 17 years in a game that gave the lie to fans who say pro football these days is all forward passing.

In slamming the door on the Cleveland Browns seventh straight championship try yesterday, 17-7, Detroit netted only 59 of its 258-yard total gain on a series of passes.

It was a curious struggle on frozen ground for the 50,934 fans who shivered in Lakefront Stadium and millions who wanted television in warm homes.

First, the key run was a 67-yard touchdown sprint by halfback Doak Walker, who hadn't hit pay dirt all year. He missed half the Lions' games to rest a pulled leg muscle and didn't play when Cleveland lost, 17-6, in Detroit eight weeks ago.

Second, the Browns controlled the ball nearly two-thirds of the time, but the Lions held a comfortable point lead for all but a few minutes. Walker's run, midway in the third period, put Detroit ahead 14-0.

The Browns smashed back for their only touchdown four minutes later, with fullback Harry Jagade plunging 7 to cop a 68-yard drive. Just 12 more minutes and the Browns' hopes died on a 36-yard field goal by Lion fullback Pat Harder. Halfback Ken Carpenter fumbled a Detroit punt to set up this three-pointer.

The Lions played it cautiously in the last half, while the Browns piled up a big edge in statistics, which don't pay off.

Jagade, whose 104 yards rushing was tops for the day, took the second-half kickoff back 18 then broke away for 19 and 29-yard jaunts in a drive to the Lions' 25. Jim David spiked this threat by intercepting a pass that bounded off Carpenter's fingers on Detroit's 12.

In the final period big Marion Motley made the Browns' biggest ground gain by breaking away for 42 yards on a pitchout from Otto Graham. He went out of bounds on the 5 but lost 5 trying end the next play. Thurman McGraw smeared quarterback Graham for an 11-yard loss, while Otto hunted a receiver, then Dick Flanagan batted down a toss to give the Lions the ball on their 21.

Detroit Coach Buddy Parker said after the game:

"Our defense won it for us."

The Lions' offense ran not at all true to form. Halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer, Detroit's biggest ground-gainer all season, made the least yardage of the offensive backs. End Cloyce Box, who led the league in touchdown passes, caught only one forward. Bobby Layne, third among NFL passers in yardage and touchdown tosses, threw only nine and completed seven.

Graham, the league's best in completions and pass yardage, connected on 20, but nearly all his throws were short ones, and his net yardage was less than half the 384 gained by the Browns' offense. He sorely missed end Mac Speedie, the league's leading receiver, and halfback Dub Jones, one of his favorite long-range targets.

Speedie sat it all out on the bench, while Jones didn't even put on a uniform. Both wrenched knees against the New York Giants two weeks ago.

Lou Groza of the Browns, playing with badly bruised ribs, missed first-half field goal tries of 28, 47 and 37 yards.

A wobbly 22-yard punt by Horace Gillom gave Detroit its first scoring break. The ball went out at midfield, and Layne sparked the touchdown drive with a ground gain of 13 yards and passes to Box and Bill Swacki for first downs and 24 more yards. Layne shouldered through the middle from the two to score standing up at 1:40 of the second quarter.

Mencel, OSU's Ebert Lead Big 10 Scorers

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Ebert, Ohio State's 6-foot-4 junior center, and Chuck Mencel of Minnesota, sophomore guard, share the Big Ten basketball scoring lead today, each with a 19.2 point average in four games.

Ebert, runner-up last season, improved his average by 1.2 to vault from sixth place on the sharpshooting list last week to the top. Mencel led last week and has not played since.

BROWNS BACK BROUGHT DOWN—Ray Renfro, Cleveland Browns halfback, is brought down by two unidentified Detroit Lions players in second quarter of the National Football League championship game in Cleveland Sunday. Renfro picked up three yards on the play. Detroit won the game, 17 to 7, to take the professional title for the first time since 1935.

Walker's Run, 2 Goal Stands Trim Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Doak Walker's first touchdown run this season and two stone-ribbed goal line stands trimmed the Cleveland Browns Sunday and earned the 1952 pro football title for Detroit's Lions.

Walker, a speedy and shifty Texan, went 67 yards down the left sidelines for the tally clinching the Lions' 17-7 victory.

"After I got past the line of scrimmage I felt I had a chance to go all the way. They really opened up a big hole, didn't they?" said Walker.

The halfback roared left and cut back between Cleveland right end George Young and tackle Bob Gain. Then he headed left again for the chalk line and kept going. The gallop put the Lions ahead, 14-0, and the two goal stands held the advantage.

Coach Buddy Parker, carried from the field on the shoulders of his team, declared: "Our defense won for us. The Browns outgained us, but our line was terrific when they were inside the 30. I never saw anything like it."

The Browns blamed their own miscues for two lost scoring chances and coach Paul Brown said the slips proved again that the title game "hinges on small things."

Ticking off the errors, Brown said: "Marion Motley ran wide instead of off tackle," when the Browns had a first down on the Lion five and got smeared back to the 10.

The last Cleveland drive flickered out, he continued, when two Brown receivers palmed Otto Graham's end zone pitch. "Ray Renfro touched it but couldn't hang on. Darrell Brewster nabbed it before it hit the ground but it went as an illegal play—two men on offense can't touch a forward."

Parker said the time Motley was stopped was "the turning point, but it was a battle right up the finish."

Salem All-American Officially In Game

A former Salem High School football player, Lloyd Yoder, believed to be Salem's only All-American griddier, was one of the officials in the annual East-West game Saturday, which East won, 21-20.

Yoder, who graduated from high school here in 1922, gained All-America honors while playing for Carnegie Tech in 1926. He first went to Mount Union College when he completed high school but, unable to make the team, went to Tech.

Playing at Carnegie Tech with Yoder were Dike Beede, coach at Youngstown College, and "Ski" Meffert, formerly of Lisbon. All three were instrumental in downing Notre Dame, coached by the great Knute Rockne.

George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers in the NBA has been named state chairman of the Crusade for Freedom drive which started recently in Minnesota.

Final Practices Set For Badgers, USC

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin and Southern California head into the final phases of conditioning today and the coaches of both Rose Bowl teams admittedly are seeking the answers to question marks as their New Year's Day battle draws near.

Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin, while seemingly not seriously disturbed, said today he might juggle his backfield offensive combination for the kickoff.

USC Coach Jess Hill is still tinkering with his defensive secondary lineup to plug the gap caused when left halfback Jim Psaltis was declared ineligible by the coast conference last week.

Williamson said Roger Dornburg, squat 180-pounder from Naperville, Ill., ordinarily a linebacker, might start on offense at right halfback, replacing Jerry Witt.

Dornburg has played the position on occasion and presumably will be utilized for straight ahead plunges. He is said to be more effective at this than 184-pound Witt, whose specialty is pichtouts and end sweeps.

Patterson May Get Rookie Ring Award

NEW YORK (AP)—A decision on boxing's "rookie of the year" award must await tonight's main go debut of Floyd Patterson, Olympic middleweight champion.

Patterson, 19-year-old Golden Glove grad, steps into the star bout category in his fourth pro start when he meets Lulu Sabotin of Warren, O., at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway in a televised eight (Dumont) at 10 p. m. (EST).

The other TV network bouts of the week are:

Wednesday: At Miami, Fla. — Jake La Motta, New York, vs. Danny Nardico, Tampa, Fla., light heavies, 10 rounds (CBS).

Friday: At New York's Madison Square Garden — Teddy (Red Top) Davis, Hartford, Conn. vs. Fabela Chavez, Los Angeles, featherers, 10 rounds (BC).

Although there has been no official announcement, it is reported a new Saturday night boxing series with Ray Arcel as matchmaker will open Jan. 24 from Boston with Johnny Gonsalves, ranking lightweight contender from Oakland, Calif., meeting Paddy DeMarco, rugged Brooklyn contender.

The shows will move from city to city, outside of New York, with the local area blacked out. The main events will go on at 9 p. m.

Little Hope Remains For Davis Cup Team

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Australia's two tennis tigers—Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor—yanked the rug from under America's Davis Cup team in a hurry today.

They'll play out the final three matches only because all the tickets have been sold and the rules demand it.

But after today's one-sided exhibition about the only thing left for Uncle Sam's lads is a faint glimmer of hope.

First Sedgman delivered one of the heaviest salvos ever seen in cup play as he opened the series with a crushing 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 victory over American Captain Vic Seixas of Philadelphia.

Then McGregor all but topped this display by wearing down young Tony Trabert under a searing sun and finally trouncing him by scores of 11-9, 6-4, 6-1.

The first set between McGregor and Trabert deserves to rank as a classic duel between two great serves. But once Trabert wavered and lost his delivery in the final game, it was all over. From there on McGregor was unbeatable.

The great crowd of well over 15,000 gave Trabert and Seixas a sincere ovation when they walked from the court.

Trabert was so completely frazzled that just before he reached the doorway leading to the dressing room he was seen to waver in his stride and an alert ambulance crewman grabbed him and guided him the rest of the way.

The long struggle in heat over 90 degrees was a tough experience for the Cincinnati youngster, who was playing his first really hard competitive match in approximately a year.

The only argument heard as the huge throng broke up was whether Sedgman or McGregor played greater tennis in what probably will be their swan song to Davis cup singles.

After today's great display it only could be assumed they would team up to smack down Seixas and Trabert in tomorrow's doubles. In that event, the Australians could be expected to permit the other two members of their squad—Mervyn Rose and Lewis Hoad—to close out the series in the concluding singles Wednesday.

The week's main attraction comes Tuesday with Michigan State facing Minnesota at Minneapolis. Each team has played and won one Big Ten game. Indiana's hustling Hoosiers will seek their third straight league triumph at Michigan (1-3) Saturday while Ohio State is at Michigan State, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Purdue (1-1) at Wisconsin.

Salem To Play Alumni Team Tuesday, Palestine Friday

The Salem Quakers will get a breather Tuesday night when the Alumni take on the locals in an exhibition game in the Salem gym. The first game will start at 7:30.

The opener will pit the Youngstown South Reserves against the Salem Reserves. Earlier in the season, the Varsity played South at the fieldhouse in Youngstown as part of a cage doubleheader, depriving the Reserves of that game which will be made up Tuesday night.

The Alumni tilt, starting at 8:45 will have several former Salem stars in action against the present edition of the Quakers.

George Reash, now starring for Whittenburg University, will be the lone representative from the team three years ago. The great squad of two years ago will send Bob Theiss, Bob Coy, John Votaw, Phil Hunter and Jim Hurlbert.

Theiss and Coy are now playing first team for Western Reserve University. Jim Callahan, ace pivotman for that squad, could not make it for the game because he is now playing varsity ball with Cornell which has some contests this week in the East.

Two other members of the great 1950-51 squad, Tom Trebilcock and Niles.

Big 10 Basketball To Hit Full Stride

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten basketball hits full stride this New Year's holiday week with seven conference games and all teams but defending champion Illinois in conference action.

The Illini, bouncing back from a 77-73 loss to Minnesota to win Ohio State 86-62 Saturday, have only an interconference date with St. Mary's of California this week. It's scheduled at Champaign Tuesday night.

A shifting in the second division is due tonight when Wisconsin (1-1) invades Iowa, 1-2, and Northwestern (0-1) goes to Ohio State (0-1).

The week's main attraction comes Tuesday with Michigan State facing Minnesota at Minneapolis. Each team has played and won one Big Ten game. Indiana's hustling Hoosiers will seek their third straight league triumph at Michigan (1-3) Saturday while Ohio State is at Michigan State, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Purdue (1-1) at Wisconsin.

Non-league engagements for Big Ten outfits include Butler at Michigan tonight, Notre Dame at Northwestern, and Minnesota at Marquette Wednesday.

Hine Cagers Trounce Sharon Hoyle, 80-57

John Pridon hooped in 25 points to pace the H. I. Hine team to an 80-57 win over the Sharon (Pa.) Hoyle cagers Saturday night at the Memorial Building.

No time limit was used in the game. The half ended when a team made 40 points and the game was over when one of them tallied 80.

Of the 105 players in the National Hockey League, 13 were born in the Province of Manitoba, Canada.

Despinto Nears Riding Record

Jockey Needs Only 8 More Wins For Mark

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Apprentice Jockey Anthony Despinto returns to Tropical Park today with an all-time riding record almost within his grasp.

The Lawrence, Mass., rider who celebrated his 18th birthday on Christmas Eve, rode three winners at Havana's Oriental Park Sunday to run his total for a year to 381 — just eight short of a new world record.

Despinto has mounts in seven of the nine races on today's program and with reasonable luck in the three remaining days could shatter the old mark of 388 set 46 years ago and tied in 1950.

"I'm very much hopeful of breaking that record," he said. "I would say that I have a better than fifty-fifty chance of setting a new record. Let's say six to five."

Hearty Dishes Good In Crisp Weather

When holiday vacations get under way, mothers had best be prepared for hungry youngsters at noon-time. A few hours out of doors will do astonishing things to young appetites. A lunch built around a hearty, piping hot macaroni dish will take care of the situation easily and inexpensively.

Macaroni Mexicana

1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups grated American cheese
1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives
2 cups macaroni (8 oz.)
2 cups corn flakes
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Cook green pepper until soft in heated shortening; stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook over moderate heat until thickened. Add seasonings and cheese, stirring until cheese is melted; carefully fold in sliced olives. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water only until tender. Drain, rinse and drain again. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce; pour into greased 2-quart casserole. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over macaroni. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) about 20 minutes. Serves 6-8.

Macaroni With Cheese

2 cups macaroni (8 oz.)
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
3 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups corn flakes

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water only until tender. Drain, rinse, and drain again. Melt shortening; add flour, stirring until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook over moderate heat until thickened. Add seasonings and cheese, stirring until cheese is melted. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce; pour into greased 2-quart casserole. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over macaroni. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 20 minutes. Serves 6-8.

CABBAGE-PINEAPPLE SALAD

3 cups shredded green cabbage
1 cup well-drained crushed pineapple
1 pimiento (diced)
3/4 cup (about) well-seasoned French dressing.
Toss cabbage, pineapple, pimiento and French dressing together. Serve on lettuce leaves if desired. Makes 5 servings.

Cottage Pudding Is Easy on Budget

When easy cottage pudding is on the menu, the family really gets its just desserts and the food budget doesn't take a beating when used in the preparation.

A date-lemon sauce served warm over the pudding adds flavor and extra nutrition, too, for nonfat dry milk is used in this topping. You'll find this one a dessert that's favorite with family and cook alike.

EASY COTTAGE PUDDING

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
One-third cup soft shortening
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg
3/4 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together flour, nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder and salt. Add shortening, sugar, egg, water and vanilla. Beat with electric mixer about 1 1/2 minutes or with a wooden spoon until smooth powder, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, greased, waxed paper-lined and greased again 9 by 9 by 2-inch baking pan.

Baking in a moderate oven (350 F.) about 30 minutes or until top is lightly browned. Cut into 3-inch squares. Serve warm with date-lemon sauce. Makes 9 servings.

Date-Lemon Sauce: Mix together one-third cup nonfat dry milk powder, 2 tablespoons cornstarch,

1/2 cup sugar; sprinkle over 1 1/2 cups water mixed with 1/4 cup lemon juice. Beat with rotary beater until well blended. Add 1 teaspoon lemon rind and 1/2 cup chopped dates.

Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve warm over easy cottage pudding.

LOBSTER, MUSHROOMS

1 6 1/2-ounce can South African Rock lobster milk
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 3-ounce can (1/2 cup drained) broiled sliced mushrooms salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
toast points
paprika

Drain liquid from rock lobster; add enough milk to make 1 cup. Cut lobster into good size pieces. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Remove from heat; add lobster liquid and milk mixture slowly, stirring until smooth after each addition. Stir in cream. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Stir in lemon juice; drain mushrooms and add. (Reserve mushroom liquid to add to soup or gravy another day.) Add salt to taste and pepper.

This will make a medium-thick sauce; if you like it a little thinner, stir in 2 tablespoons of the mushroom liquid. Reheat gently, stirring carefully only a few times so as not to break up lobster and make it stringy. Serve, garnished with toast points, and sprinkled with paprika. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

GOOD LUNCHEON DISH

Line four greased individual casseroles with well-seasoned creamed spinach. Break an egg into each and sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven about fifteen minutes, or until the eggs are as firm as you wish them.

HOUSING HOLDS UP—The home building boom continued through 1952 with 866,500 units completed during the first three quarters of the year, surpassing last year's estimate for the same period by 800 units. Above Newschart traces home building in the U. S. from 1946 to the present. Data compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Humidity Is Important To Health, Comfort

Much has been said in newspapers and magazines about over-humidification in the modern home. But little has been heard of its opposite number—under-humidification.

The words are jawbreakers, but they mean simply too much and too little moisture in the air, respectively.

Now there are two schools of thought in this matter of humidity. One side believes over-humidification can be ruinous to a home and would try to reduce the moisture content of the air in the home. It offers convincing arguments in support of this contention. This column has been a participant.

The other side believes under-humidification can be damaging to home and health, and it cites equally convincing arguments. Both sides seem to stand on one small plot of ground—interest in the home owner's welfare and, of course, their own.

Builders, for example, say modern insulation and construction that keep cold air outside also keep moisture in, making it easy to build up excessive and even harmful moisture levels in modern homes.

Humidifiers add moisture to the air in the home and reduce the cooling sensations often felt indoors during the winter.

Plastic Tile NEW LIFE FOR WALLS and KITCHENS

PLASTIC WALL TILE
Means a Bathroom of Which You'll Be Proud!

You have to see Plastic Tile installed to realize its lasting, lustrous beauty. And years later, it will be as attractive as the first day it pleases you so much. Plastic tile is durable, not harmed by the common acids and alkalis used in bathroom and kitchen. Dismiss for good that troublesome area around the shower. Plastic Tile absorbs no water, sticks to the wall with viselike grip.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q—Should a privet hedge planted last October be cut back now or in early spring?

A—Spring is the better time for cutting back the hedge. However, do trim the plants back now to a uniform height, about 20 to 24 inches depending upon their present heights. In spring cut all back to within six or eight inches of the ground.

Q—What commonly grown hybrid tea roses won the greatest number of prizes at the better rose shows?

A—Dr. R. C. Allen, secretary of the American Rose Society, says that Peace, as usual was a mile ahead with Crimson Glory, which took second place. Down the line in order were Eclipse, Rex Anderson, Mirandy, McGredy's Yellow, Rubaiyat and Tallyho.

Q—Tiny white wooly bugs are on the leaves and stems of several house plants. What is the remedy?

A—The foliage of all house plants can be kept free of insects by weekly syringing with warm water to which a little mild soap flakes and Black Leaf 40 have been added. Follow maker's directions for mixing. This treatment will get rid of white scale, mealy bug, aphids and green fly.

Q—Do crabgrass roots live over from year to year?

A. Not crabgrass is strictly an annual, and so lives just one season. New plants come from the seed that lies in the soil all winter and germinates when the soil gets warm in May and June.

Psychologist Says 'Mom' Not Cause Of All Child's Problems

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A woman psychologist today lambasted the idea that "mom is to blame" for all of a child's troubles and ills. Psychologists write a lot about childhood psychology, but practically nothing about the psychology of parents, she said.

Parenthood is just a developmental stage "between childhood and old age," declared Dr. Jane Loevinger of Washington University, St. Louis, in an address to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Coming to the defense of sometimes over-criticized mothers, Dr. Loevinger cited five statements buttressing her argument that there's too much emphasis on a mother-blaming complex:

1. "Parenthood has never been recognized officially as a branch of psychology, nor as a normal developmental stage."

2. "Child psychology is one of the most intensively cultivated branches of psychology; the 'psychology of parents' is virtually nonexistent." She quoted one psychoanalyst who says that "babies control and bring up their families as much as they are controlled by them; in fact, we may say that the family brings up a baby by being brought up by him."

3. "Research on parents has been concerned almost exclusively with their goodness as parents, as if to say that parents are of interest only for the sake of the child."

4. "In the study of mothers, there has been extraordinary preoccupation with the concept of 'maternal rejection.'"

But, she added, "almost every child believes, at some time or other, that what is wrong is that 'maternal rejection.'"

But, she added, "almost every child believes, at some time or other, that what is wrong is that 'mommy doesn't love me enough.'"

5. "Literature written by psychologists for parents emphasizes 'the rights of infants,' the obligation of mothers to satisfy their children's needs," but without telling the difference between the child's needs and rights.

Dr. Loevinger said there ought to be a study of the potentialities for evil of the "how-to-be-a-perfect-parent" books, lectures and articles.

Too often, she said, "each parent survives that advice on how to raise children that is least appropriate for him."

She said much of the advice to parents from psychologists may have an opposite effect from that intended, that many mothers who read books and articles on child-rearing "are those who are already overburdened with conscience" about it and only draw trouble.

The telescope was invented in Holland, but Galileo, an Italian, so improved and developed it that his name was long associated with all telescopes.

De Valera Recovered From Eye Trouble

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland told reporters today he has recovered from the eye trouble which almost caused him to go blind.

But, he added just before departing for home after 4½ months of treatment at the Utrecht Eye Clinic, "It will take some time before I will be able to attend to the full round of my public duties."

Ordinary table sugar dissolves in about one-third its own bulk of cold water and in even less water if the water is hot.

Obituary

Mrs. Paul Williams

Mrs. Virginia J. Williams, 33, of 873 South Union Ave. died at 6:50 p.m. Saturday in City Hospital. She had been in failing health for three years.

Born Jan. 27, 1919 in Weirton, W. Va., she was the daughter of Nathan and Leah Price Knotts. She graduated from Follansbee, (W. Va.) High School in 1936. She attended West Virginia University. She was married May 25, 1940, to Paul D. Williams in Morgantown, W. Va.

She was a member of St. Paul Catholic Church and the Catholic Daughters of America. She had lived in Salem for the last five years.

Surviving are husband, Paul, owner of Williams Appliance store; one daughter, Deanne; two sons, Paul D. II and William T., all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Knotts; two brothers, Joseph and David, both of Weirton; two sisters, Mrs. John Kinsey and Mrs. Lee Carte, both of Weirton.

Funeral services will be held at St. Paul church at 10 a.m. Wednesday in charge of Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney. Interment will be in Union Cemetery at Steubenville.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Daniel C. Good

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Margaret Grace Good, 43, of RD 1, Columbiana died in Youngstown Receiving Hospital at 2:30 a.m. this morning of a heart ailment following an illness of nine years.

She was born March 1, 1909 at Harrisonburg, Va., a daughter of Rudolph and Anna C. Wyant Blosser. She was married June 6, 1933 in Beaver Township, Mahoning County, to Daniel C. Good who survives.

A member of the North Lima Menonite Church, she graduated from North Lima High School and Kent State University. She taught school at Austintown Fitch for four years.

Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Dorothy Jean and Carol Margaret, at the home; her mother, Mrs. Anna Blosser of North Lima; five sisters, Mrs. Paul Buckwalter of East Canton, Mrs. Henry Brown of North Lima and Mrs. Carl Lehman, Mrs. Elwood Forney and Mrs. Randall Justice of Columbiana; two brothers, Harold of Columbiana and Rudolph of New Waterford, and a half-sister, Miss Sally Blosser of Harrisonburg, Va.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the North Lima Menonite Church, with Rev. David Stiener, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Midway Menonite Cemetery, on the Canfield-Columbiana Rd.

The body will lie in state at the church from 1 p.m. until service time.

Friends may call at the Seedy-Belhart Funeral Home in North Lima Tuesday evening.

Benjamin H. Morris

SEBRING—Benjamin H. Morris, 76, retired bookkeeper at the Limoges China Co. and former president of Buckeye Savings & Loan Co., died at 12:35 a.m. Saturday at his residence at 306 S. 21st St. He had been ill two years.

Born in Smith township, he had lived here his entire life and was a member of the Bethel Reformed Church at East Beech. He graduated from Mount Union College in 1904. For 10 years he was a teacher in Mahoning and Columbiana county schools.

After the Buckeye Savings and Loan Co. merged with the Midland Bank, Mr. Morris served as director of the Midland Buckeye Savings and Loan Co., a position he held until his death.

Service will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Cassidy-Turk Funeral Home in Alliance in charge of Rev. James V. Ingram, pastor of the East Beech church; Rev. Robert Mosher, pastor of the Damascus Friends Church, and Rev. J. Walter Klages of the Sebring Christian Church. Interment will take place in Quaker Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the family home tonight from 7 to 9.

Mathias Fleischer

Mathias Fleischer, 68, of 628 Euclid died Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Salem City Hospital.

He was born in Transylvania Sept. 1, 1884 and came to the United States as a boy. He was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church and the Transylvanian Saxon Lodge No. 19.

He was married in 1911 to Katherine Nietch of Salem, who died May 15, 1952.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Francis L. Baly and Mrs. J. Glen Youtz; a brother, John Fleischer; a granddaughter and three grandsons.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. by Rev. John Bauman of Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home Tuesday evening.

Clement L. Manchester

CANFIELD—Clement L. Manchester, 88, died this morning at 12:10 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Clay, of RD 3, Canfield.

Born in Goshen Township Jan. 16, 1864, he was the son of Robert A. and Anna Bowman Manchester. He was a member of the Canfield Presbyterian Church and Ellsworth Center Grange.

He also served as a member of the Ellsworth Township School Board.

Manchester was married May 22, 1890 to Mary Lower of Ellsworth Township, who died 10 years ago.

U.S. Is Nearer Space Rocket Completion

WASHINGTON (AP)—American rocket experts and military scientists are moving closer to the time when they can fire a missile so high it will never return to earth.

The latest hint of this step toward the eventual development of an experimental satellite to move around the earth as does the moon came in a recent address by Secretary of the Air Force Finletter.

The secretary said he foresees the development of rocket engines producing 500,000 pounds of thrust. With such a propelling force, he estimated, a speed of 20,000 miles an hour will be reached. The altitudes reached by such rockets "will, of course, take them out into space," he added.

This estimate was somewhat under the 25,000 miles an hour which many scientists estimate will be required to accelerate a rocket to the point where momentum would carry it across the boundary of earth's gravity.

The first objective in creation of an unmanned, artificial satellite would be to provide an eye-in-the-sky with which to watch what happened anywhere in the Northern Hemisphere as the satellite orbited around the earth. A kind of camera linked electronically to the earth would serve as the eye, scientists say.

While scientists think they have solved many of the major engineering projects for getting an artificial satellite aloft and on station in space, it would cost big money. Estimates range from three to five billion dollars for even a comparatively modest unmanned satellite.

But the building of a test missile to prove whether an object can be fired into space presumably will cost considerably less. It probably is much nearer attainment.

Demand For Motors Puts Market Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—Demand for motors put the stock market ahead today.

Changes in the list spread out over a fractional range either way with the upside more popular. Only a few gains of more than a point were registered.

Motors were by far the most active of the major divisions. Total business came to an estimated million and a half shares as compared with only 1,290,000 shares traded Friday.

Supporting the motors were steel, rails, oils, utilities, golds, chemicals, and most building materials. Other sections were quiet or narrowly mixed.

Higher stocks included Bethlehem Steel, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio, Standard Oil (N. J.), American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, American Woolen, and U. S. Gypsum.

"TAKES A BACK SEAT TO NONE"

"I have driven my 1952 Nash Ambassador 12,000 miles ... my sixth Nash and by far the best ... As McCulloch says, 'It has the finest shockproof ride in the world' and it takes a back seat to none on hills, for speed or roadability ... P.S. Mrs. Leu drives a Nash Rambler." O.K. AUTO AUCTION, Cleveland, Ohio, Fond du Lac, Wisc.

"30,000 MILES ... $9.32 REPAIRS"

"After 30,000 miles of hard driving in less than one year ... the total amount of repairs on my Nash Rambler has been $9.32, which to me is almost unbelievable." G. DARWIN KITCHEN, Huntington, W. Va.

"EIGHT OF US"

"... I found seven of my friends from camp stranded ... all their luggage on top of my golf bags and baggage fitted neatly into the roomy trunk (1952 Ambassador). All eight of us, four in front and four in back, were seated without anyone sitting on anyone else's lap." SFC LEON E. ROSENTHAL, Camp Pickett.

"32.3 MILES PER GALLON"

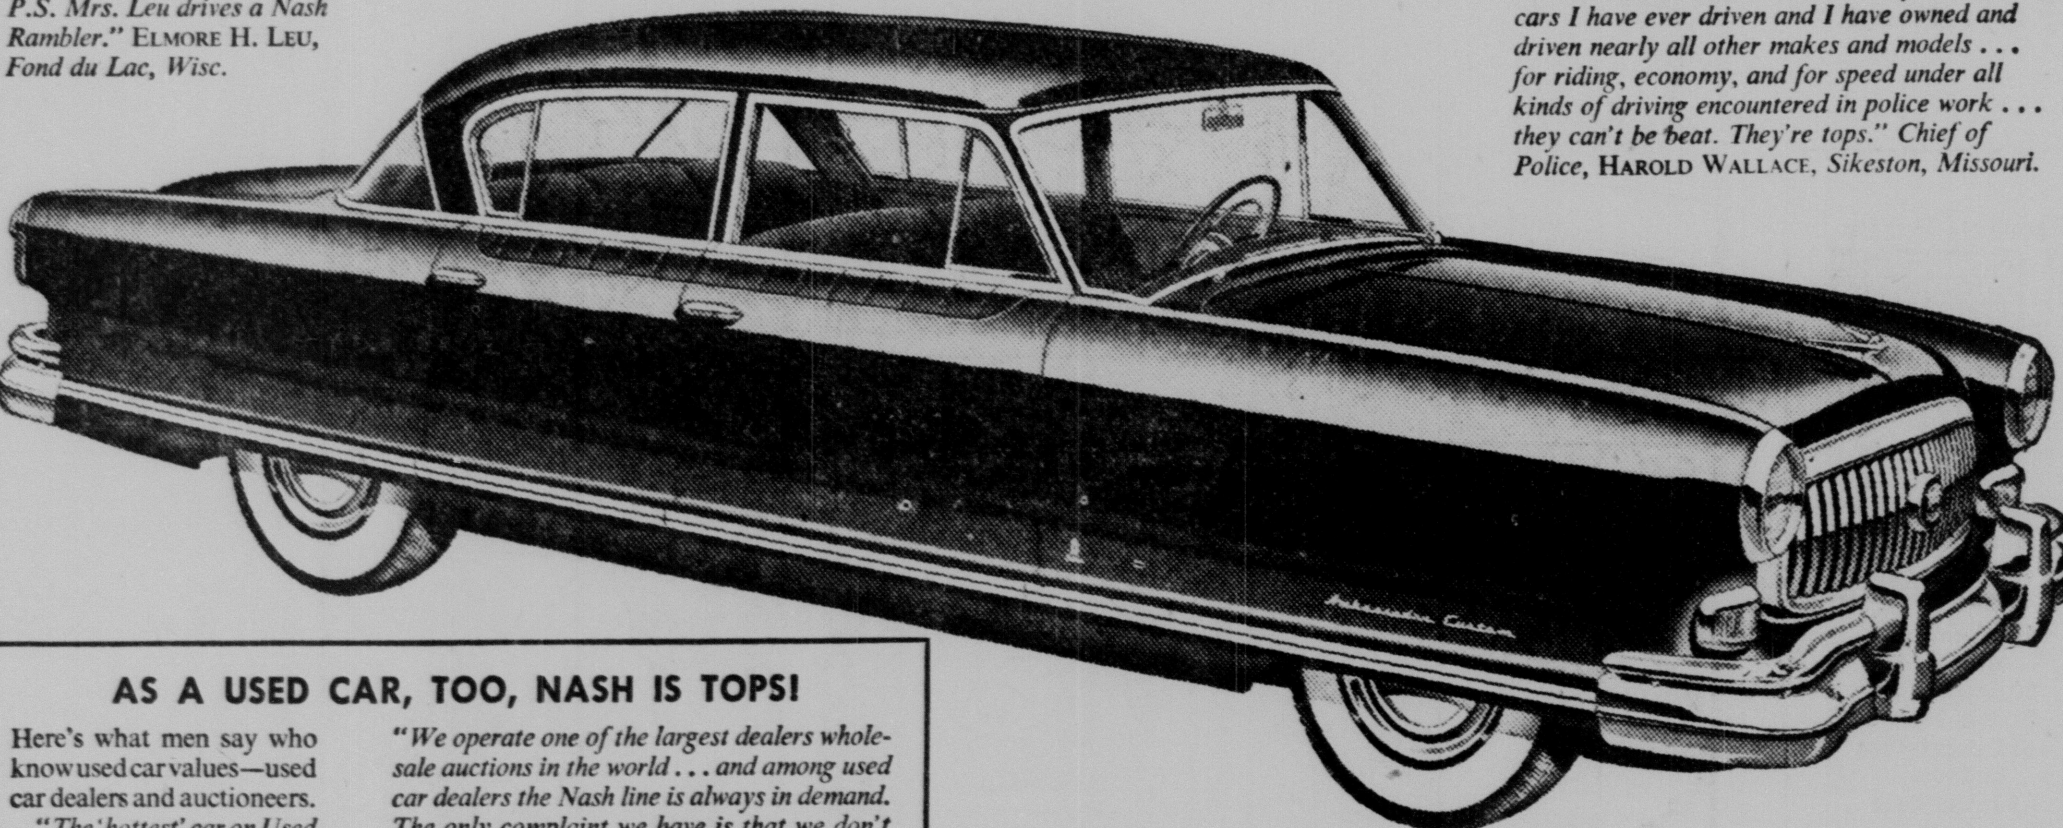

"I drove from Beloit to Minocqua, Wisc., (275 miles) on 8.8 gallons ... 32.3 miles per gallon ... at 50 miles per hour ... Around town, I have been getting 25-27 ... I have found my Rambler to have excellent riding comfort and it's a joy to drive." MARGARET ANKERSEN, Beloit, Wisc.

"HELPED SAVE ME"

"Car turned over three times ... I received only a few scratches ... It helped save me ... for security in the event of an accident, there is no better construction than Nash ..." ARTHUR S. HARGETT, Baltimore, Maryland.

"CAN'T BE BEAT"

"I have owned 14 Nash cars ... they are the best cars I have ever driven and I have owned and driven nearly all other makes and models ... for riding, economy, and for speed under all kinds of driving encountered in police work ... they can't be beat. They're tops." Chief of Police, HAROLD WALLACE, Sikeston, Missouri.
